The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at UAH (OLLI at UAH) is a member-based learning community that offers adults age 50+ the opportunity to stay intellectually and socially active in a safe and comfortable environment. OLLI normally averages over 1,100 members and annually offers over 200 short courses, bonus lectures, events, social activities, and travel opportunities.

As a sponsor for our program, your organization will be exposed to this community as well as UAH alumni, retirees, and other communities. They are parents, grandparents, sons, and daughters. They are lawyers, doctors and nurses, teachers, professors, scientists, veterans, engineers, managers, administrators, and social workers—you name it, we probably have some. They are influential in the community and in their families. Currently, due to the COVID-19 Pandemic our program is facing some hardships and needs the help of our sponsors to continue to provide a successful program for our members.

To support OLLI at UAH, contact Clay Williams at 256.824.6183 or at Clay.P.Williams@uah.edu
